the women's volleyball team came up with a winning season this year. the girls played thirty-three matches winning twenty-two of those matches. the team beat rivals such as wake forest, st. andrews, high point, catawba, meredith, appalachian, east carolina, unc-t and many others. the team had a tough schedule with traveling, playing a great number of matches, and meeting many worthy opponents but, of course, coach yow and the elon girls came out on top!

dedication

The purpose of the 1973-74 PHI PSI CLI is to attempt to display an overall picture of Elon College, past and present. In conjunction with this purpose, the staff has chosen to dedicate this year's book to the most worthy "fighting Christian" on Elon's campus, Dr. Alonzo Hook, Dean Emeritus of the college.

Dr. Hook is very familiar with the campus—as a student and as part of the administration. He entered Elon as a freshman in 1909. At that time, enrollment at Elon was approximately 200 to 300 students. During his four years, he held such positions as school photographer, manager of the baseball team, and a member of the basketball team. He was also the very first business manager of the PHI PSI CLI which printed its first yearbook in 1913. The major campus "gripe" during Dr. Hook's years as a student was the food in the cafeteria. "I did not gripe about the food though," Dr. Hook says. "I had no gripes about Elon."

During college, Dr. Hook dated the 1913 Elon Baseball Team Mascot, Jessie Irene Dawson, and a year after his graduation, they were married.

After finishing graduate school at Cornell University, Dr. and Mrs. Hook returned to Elon where Dr. Hook became a member of the faculty. He instructed students in a wide variety of courses such as math, science, education, history, and photography. He became the first faculty advisor of Iota Tau Kappa Fraternity and also served as the 1922 Senior Class Advisor.

When asked his opinion of the students of today in comparison to those when he was a student, Dr. Hook remarks, "Relatively speaking, I would say that the student of 1913 was more respectful of age. I do not feel, however, that the young people of today are going to the dogs. One need only to look on the inside instead of paying so much attention to the outside to find that this is true."

"Elon is much broader today that it was in 1913. The major purpose of the school at that time was to train students to become ministers and laymen of the church. Training of public school teachers was also a major offering." Today, with Elon's enrollment nearing almost 2,000 students, the College has expanded greatly in its aims and purposes, and many more fields of study have opened up to the student. "This, of course, is the natural outgrowth," Dr. Hook adds.

It is quite evident that Dr. Hook is very proud of Elon. And Elon is lucky to have such a loyal and distinguished gentleman on its campus.

"everytime we say hello
 to some new encounter
 we're on our way
 toward good-bye"
 —rod mckuen

memories,
like the corners of my mind;
misty water color memories of the way we were.

scattered pictures
of the smiles we left behind smiles we gave to one another for the way we were.

can it be that it was all so simple then—
has time rewritten every line?
if we had a chance to do it all again,
tell me
would we?
could we?

memories may be beautiful and yet what's too painful to remember we simply choose to forget.
so it's the laughter we will remember
whenever we remember,
the way we were.

—from "The Way We Were"
